

Dear SACA Members,

This month marks our return to in-person shows with SACA's Tohono Chul show happening on February 11th and 12th. We are SO EXCITED to see everyone at this show and to give everyone a chance to promote and sell their work again. It's going to be an incredible event and a real celebration after being away from shows for so many months. If you're taking part in the show, thank you so much for participating. If you're not a juried member or have decided not to participate, we'd still love to see you there to support your fellow clay artists in Southern Arizona. There will be an incredible array of artist voices and works in this show! Also, don't forget to promote and share the event details with your friends, family, and broader networks to help make the show as successful and fun as possible!

I hope you are having a nice, productive, and creative winter. After Tohono Chul we are looking forward to some engaging spring programming that gives us even more opportunities to connect and grow together as artists.

Thank you, and I'll see you at Tohono Chul!

Your Input Needed

We are in the preliminary stages of putting together a workshop/presentation for our members about selling their work online. If you do sell your work online, please consider sharing what platforms you have tried, what has worked for you, and what hasn't. Any other tips, tricks, and ideas are also greatly appreciated!

Feel free to reach out to me directly.

Best,

Dawn Heineman
